CHATEAU LES CARRASSES LANGUEDOC

Arriving at the grand Château les Carrasses in France's Languedoc, with its fairy-tale white-stone turrets, it soon becomes clear that this is not your average chintzy castle. My apartment, one of the 28 self-catering suites and cottages, was a high-ceilinged mix of black marble fireplaces and French windows, Bose iPod docks and flatscreen TVs, in a highly contemporary, pared down aesthetic of muted greys and taupes. Think Rapunzel's tower given a makeover for Elle Decoration and you're probably not far off. With a heated pool and excellent brasserie, this is a place to do your own thing in an unfussy atmosphere while still enjoying the romance of those Sleeping Beauty turrets. Château Suites from £125. lescarrasses.com
